TO WHOM SO IT MAY CONCERN

I am ecstatic to learn that the International Benevolent Research Foundation, Kolkata is launching a six months Certificate Course on "Research Methodology and System Analysis". This academic endeavour with coordinated efforts is definitely enrich the scholars' knowledge and skill to adopt appropriate research methodology and tools. I hope the curriculum of this Certificate Course would create a bench mark for building a step towards quality research to meet the expectation of stake holders.

The IBRF envision a quality approach for research hence, truly deserves complements and congratulations.

My congratulations and best wishes for IBRF family for this academic endeavour.
