It gives me immense pleasure to know that International Benevolent Research Foundation (IBRF), Kolkata is launching the new research centric Six Months Certificate Course on "Research Methodology and System Analysis" on October 5, 2016 (World Teachers Day).

The object of the course being started for M.Phil/Ph.D candidates aspiring for registration in different academic and R&D positions is highly commendable and am sure will greatly help in right aptitude for successful research orientation.

I am sure after successful completion of this short course, the research students will be well prepared to meet the challenges that lie ahead in the career of successful researcher.
